Chapter 3 Academic Year, Semester, Number of Class Days & Holidays

Article 6 (Academic Year/Semester) ① The academic year of the University shall start on March 1 and conclude on the final day of February of the following year.

② Academic year shall be divided into two semesters as below and a seasonal session may be established during the winter and summer vacation as set forth specifically by the President.

1. First Semester: March 1 ∼ August 31

2. Second Semester: September 1 ∼ last day of February of the following year

Article 7 (No. of Class Days and Intensive Program Week) ① The number of class days shall be 30 weeks or more per academic year (15 weeks or more per semester), and in the event that seasonal sessions are implemented, the period of seasonal sessions shall be three weeks or longer. Provided, however the period of seasonal session shall not be included in the number of class days.

② One week during the first semester may be designated as an intensive program week, and the curriculum on the intensive program shall be set forth specifically by the President following a review at the meeting of academic affairs.

③ The substitution/make-up class shall be arranged on the week just before the final exam of every semester.
Article 8 (Holidays) ① Regular holidays are as follows.

1. Summer vacation and winter vacation

2. School anniversary

3. Sunday and National holidays

② The holiday period and temporary holidays shall be set forth specifically by the President.

③ During holidays, classes may be conducted if necessary. <amended on Sep. 1, 2014>